

Call for comics: Comics and the Global South

Conference, 6 - 7 July 2022

DECOLONIAL CONVERSATIONS ON COMICS STUDIES
UNIVERSITY OF CAMBRIDGE, 6-7 JULY 2022

Deadline for comics: 4 February 2022

The upcoming conference Comics and the Global South will be a two-day hybrid (online and face-to-face) conference focusing on the intersections of comics and decoloniality.

Over the course of two days, we will bring into view both academic and artistic dialogues between the comics medium and decolonial conversations.

The conference will explore alternative formats that include academic panels, roundtables, art workshops, and reading groups.

The Comics and the Global South art exhibition will present comics from across the Global South during the whole duration of the event. An artists' roundtable will take place on Day 2 of the conference.

We welcome one-page comics (made individually or collectively) to be presented during the conference in digital format and in any language. In particular, we welcome entrances from Global South artists. Artists whose work is selected are welcome to attend in person or online.

Artwork (300dpi minimum) and a brief biographical note of the artist(s) (max. 200 words) can be sent to comicsGS@educ.cam.ac.uk.
